Mr. Adams-

We understand that this morning the EPA requested copies of the talking points that TPC used in informal briefings with certain media outlets in response to questions about the materials in storage tanks at the TPC PNO facility. Attached are the talking points, Bates labeled TPC-EPA-000001 through 000005.

It is important to note that these materials were prepared to be used as notes in connection with an oral presentation with a lay person who might not have industry or regulatory experience. The information also was based on information that TPC gathered post-incident. The talking points are not in a form or at a level of detail that TPC would typically provide to a regulatory agency. Consistent with TPC's commitment to cooperate, however, we are providing this information to EPA. If you have any questions, please contact me.
